CSC161 2011S Imperative Problem Solving

Class 51: Building Stacks and Queues from Arrays

Held: Wednesday, 4 May 2011

Summary: We consider array-based implementations of stacks and queues.

Related Pages:

- EBoard.
- Due: Exam 3.

Notes:

- HW 9 will be on doubly-linked lists.
- Today's lab will be a bit more informal.
- Happy Change Snacks Week!
- There is no reading for Friday.
- Please continue to send questions on the exam through Piazzza (general) and email (specific). If you're not sure whether your question is general or specific, send it via email.
- When you're having trouble with problems on the exam, note that pictures help! (As do debuggers, manual run-throughs, printf statements, etc.)
- EC for Orchestra, 2pm, Sunday, Main. [peer]
- EC for Grinnell Prize Announcement, Thursday, 11 a.m., Herrick. [academic]
- No Bites to Bits this week.
- EC for final CS table of the year: Data Science. `http://www.dataists.com/2010/09/a-taxonomy-of-data-science/` [academic]
- EC for Psychologist Talks (MW 4:15 next week). [academic]

Overview:

- Overview of code files.
- Lab!
